

James Hamill

Managing Director

California Statewide Communities Development Authority
(CSCDA)

James Hamill serves as a Managing Director for CSCDA, overseeing all of its public finance programs. During the last 15 years, his efforts have resulted in the deployment of over $20 billion in financing for over 450 projects throughout California that provide significant public benefit. Mr. Hamill also played an integral role in establishing the Property Assessed Clean Energy (PACE) Program for CSCDA to provide a financing tool for energy efficiency, renewable energy and water conservation for California property owners.

Trained as a bankruptcy lawyer and having spent two years as a Law Clerk with the United States Bankruptcy Court, Mr. Hamill is highly skilled at providing creative solutions and proactively managing bond programs.

Mr. Hamill is a graduate of the University of California, Riverside with a BA in Political Science and received a Law Degree from Whittier Law School.