

Geoff Neill

Principal Policy and Fiscal Analyst
California State Association of Counties

Geoff Neill has worked on revenue, tax, and general government issues for CSAC for nearly ten years. He is currently working to shore up the association's data and research efforts, and previously helped staff the Realignment Allocation Committee. He got his start in local government policy with the California Special Districts Association, where he landed after completing his studies in philosophy at UC San Diego.