If any of the above events or any other event listed in Government Code section 1770 occur, or if a Commissioner has two or more consecutive unexcused absences from commission meetings and has not participated in any manner in other commission activities between those meetings, the Chair (or the commission by a majority vote) may submit a recommendation to the Controller that office of the Commissioner in question be considered vacant. If the State Controller's Office determines that a commissioner's office is vacant, the Controller will appoint a new commissioner for the unexpired term of that office.

The Chair will determine whether an absence is excused or unexcused. Acceptable reasons for an excused absence include, but are not limited to: an individual or family illness or health condition, death in the family, pregnancy, birth or adoption of a child, extraordinary one-time travel problems in attending the meeting, or one-time conflict in meeting times for committee members that serve on more than one committee.

In cases where absences cannot be anticipated, notification shall be made at least 24 hours prior to the next meeting at which the Commissioner will not be attending or as far in advance of said meeting as possible.

Ethics Training

Pursuant to Government Code 11146, one of the CUCCAC member requirements is to complete the State Officials Ethics course within six months of assuming office and every two years (odd numbered year) thereafter. An interactive and non-interactive version of the course may be found on the Office of Attorney General's web site, <http://oag.ca.gov/ethics/course>. Certificates of completion must be provided to the SCO by mail or email.

In the event a Commissioner has already completed the State Officials Ethics course for their company, the course is not required to be taken again. A copy of the certificate of completion provided to the SCO is sufficient for meeting the requirement.

Upon establishing a Conflict of Interest Code, each agency's public officials must file a Statement of Economic Interests Form 700 with the Fair Political Practices Commission (FPPC).

Commissioners must file the Form 700 within 30 days of assuming office, and annually thereafter by the April 2nd deadline. The SCO is the Filing Officer for the Commission and will remind Commissioners of their duty to comply. Commissioners who file their Form 700 electronically with another agency must send their Form 700 with an original signature along with schedules to the SCO to file with the FPPC. The FPPC will send amendments if there are any error or if the form is incomplete. Should a Commissioner resign from the Commission, a Form 700 is required to be filed within 30 days of leaving office.
